

For those who keep our history alive

Category: News

Created: Tuesday, 18 May 2021 12:24 - Last Updated: Tuesday, 18 May 2021 14:47

Written by Dayanis Matos Hernandez

Hits: 376

Museums have the responsibility to protect the testimony of humanity and its development, they are part of the cultural identity of a nation. For this reason, in order to pay them the tribute they deserve, every May 18, the International Museum Day is celebrated

"... A nation must base its development on tradition ..." declared Eusebio Leal with that unwavering faith in the work of museums as spaces to perpetuate and give life to memory. Research and conservation are part of its essence, but its main mission is to train and educate. For this reason, Museums constitute an expeditious mechanism for sowing, above all, authentic values in the new generations.

They also treasure that foundation of material and spiritual wealth that identifies us as a country. The most sincere congratulations on behalf of the Municipal Committee of the Party, the Municipal Assembly of People's Power and the of its Board of Directors.

For those who keep our history alive

Category: News

Created: Tuesday, 18 May 2021 12:24 - Last Updated: Tuesday, 18 May 2021 14:47

Written by Dayanis Matos Hernandez

Hits: 376

